

One day as I lay dreaming
 A Dream
 Melody:"The Holy City"
 Richard Brazier

One day as I lay dreaming,
 This vision came to me:
 I saw an army streaming,
 Singing of liberty;
 I marked these toilers passing by,
 I listened to their cry.
 |: It was a triumphant anthem
 An anthem filled with joy; :|

Chorus:

One union, industrial union;
 Workers of the world unite,
 To make us free from slavery
 And gain each man his right.
 2. I saw the ruling classes
 Watching this grand array
 Of marching, toiling masses
 Passing on their way;
 With pallid cheeks and trembling limbs
 They gazed upon this throng
 |: And ever as they marched along
 The workers sang the song; :|

Chorus:

3. Methought I heard the workers
 Call to that ruling band--
 Come into our ranks, ye shirkers,
 For we now rule this land.
 Work or starve, the workers said,
 For you must earn your bread.
 |: Then into their ranks came the masters
 And joined the workers' song. :|
