

The Old Chiseller

By:Mark Starr

Music by William Wolff

There was an old chis'ler, and his shop was a dump.
The ILG got after him. He didn't know where to jump.
He dodged and he twisted and he tried to run away.
The Union followed after. Now, fair wages he must pay.