Duster the Dog
by Ralph McTell

Duster, oh Duster, what a lucky dog you are
Duster, oh Duster, you must've been born under a lucky star

All your friends from Alphabet Zoo
Want to come and play with you
From Adelaide to Kenny the Kangaroo
From Martin the Monkey and Zoe the Zebra too.

Duster, oh Duster, what a lucky dog you are
Duster, oh Duster, you must've been born under a lucky star

From Alphabet Zoo all your friends
Follow you where the rainbow ends
Don't you know they were so pleased
When you found that piece of cheese.

Duster, oh Duster, what a lucky dog you are
Duster, oh Duster, you must've been born under a lucky star

Everyone smiles as you pass through
That's the famous dog from Alphabet Zoo
Wonder where he's going today
No wonder the people nod and say

Duster, oh Duster, what a lucky dog you are
Duster, oh Duster, you must've been born under a lucky star

He's six stone now and only a pup
How big will he be when he grows up
I wonder where will bring him fame
Everyone will know his name.

Duster, oh Duster, what a lucky dog you are
Duster, oh Duster, you must've been born under a lucky star
