Words & Music by Cole Porter
Recorded by Frank Sinatra, 1961
From "Broadway Melody of 1940"

Em B+ A6/9 B7
Whenever skies look gray to me,

Em B+ Em6 F#m
And trouble begins to brew,

B7 Em6 B7 Am Am7 F#7
Whenever the winter winds become too strong,

G7 F#7 Bm7-5 B7 B7/F# Em A Em A
I con - cen - trate on you.

Em B+ A6/9 B7
When fortune cries "Nay, nay" to me,

Em B+ Em6 F#m
And people declare "You're through,"

B7 Em6 B7 Am Am7 F#7
Whenever the blues become my on - ly songs,

G7 F#7 Bm7-5 B7 B7/F# Em A Em
I con - cen - trate on you.

Bridge:

A Am7 Em
On your smile, so sweet, so tender

B7 F#m B7 Em6 Em
When at first my kiss you do decline

A Am7 Em
On the light in your eyes when you surrender

F#7 Em6 F#7 Em6 B7
And once again our arms intertwine

Em B+ A6/9 B7
And so when wise men say to me

Em B+ Em6 A6/9 F#m B7
That love's young dream never comes true,

Em B+ Em6 B7 Am Am7 F#7
To prove that even the wise men can be wrong,

G7 F#7 Bm7-5 B7 B7/F# Em Am7 Em
I con - cen - trate on you.
