

Juliana, Phebiana, Constantina Brown - song lyrics

American Old-time song lyrics from www.traditionalmusic.co.uk

Juliana, Phebiana, Constantina Brown.

Oh, I'm going to sing a song to you about, Juliana Brown,
She was the prettiest yaller gal was ever in the town.
She had eyes so bright and teeth so white, like diamonds they did shine.
And such a lovely foot she had, she wore a number nine.

Chorus.

For she looked so sweet, and she dressed so neat,
Of all the pretty yaller gals was ever in the town.
It's my Juliana Phebiana Constantina Brown.

Oh, the first time that I saw her, she was dressed up to the teeth.
The look that she then gave me nearly took away my breath,
I asked her if she would only be true to me.
And when I'd sell my poodle dog, a-married we should be.- Cho.

It's my Juliana Phebiana Constantina Brown,
She was the prettiest dancer for miles and miles around.
For when she went to balls her like was never seen.
For she was sure to be the belle, and I the belgerine.-Chorus.
