

Muldoon With His New Overcoat - song lyrics

American Old-time song lyrics from www.traditionalmusic.co.uk

Muldoon with His New Overcoat.

My name is Muldoon, from Roscommon,
But I go by the title of Dan,
I'm a brother to that famous hero
That's known as the great solid man.
The blackguards they have me tormented
With a new slang they use in their throat;
They shout and they ball as I pass City Hall:
That's Muldoon with his new Ulster coat.

Chorus.
Oh, they shout and they ball as I pass City Hall:
Pipe the terrier with his new Ulster coat.

Last week I went to the circus
Along with my old lady, too;
I hired two seats near the actors,
In order to get a full view:
When a laddybuck came out dressed in ribbons.
When he leaped in the ring like a cat,
And he shouted out loud, forninst the whole crowd:
That's Muldoon with his St. Patrick's Day hat.

Chorus.
And he shouted out loud, forninst the whole crowd:
That's Muldoon with his St. Patrick's Day hat.
