

If You'll Marry Me - song lyrics

American Old-time song lyrics from www.traditionalmusic.co.uk

IF YOU'LL MARRY ME.

Copyright, 1894, by The New York Music Co.

Words by Dave Seymour. Music by Ed. W. Rowland.

A simple question I would ask, love, of you,
Will it be a happy task, oh, tell me true?
The love that dwells within my heart I can't suppress;
If I ask you marry me, oh, answer yes.

Chorus.

You'll have the love of a heart fond and true if you'll marry me;
When stars cease to shine, then my love will decline-I'll constant be;
With you as my wife down the pathway of life, happy we shad be;
You I implore, the girl I adore, I love but thee.

If you'll be my little wife. I'll live for you.
Our home will be a paradise of love so true,
You the queen, to reign supreme, fond hearts we;
Love's honeymoon will never end if you'll marry me - Chor.