Words and Music by May Irwin.

Stars shone bright and the moon gave light, Mm, Mm, O my, what fun!

I'm going to be married to-morrow night, I invite you all to come.

Stars shone bright and the moon gave light, Mm, Mm, O my, what fun!

I'm going to be married to-morrow night, I invite you all to come.

I feel so happy, I could throw myself away,

Can't keep still when the music plays, to-morrow is my wedding day,

I invite you all to come.

Mamie, come kiss your honey boy, while the stars do shine;

Mamie, Mamie, Mamie, Mamie, Mamie, Mamie,

Come kiss your honey boy, while the stars do shine.

Mocking bird, sing in the cotton tree, Mm, Mm, O my, what fun!

There'll be the tallest dancin' you ever see. I invite you all to come.

Mocking bird, sing in the cotton tree, Mm, Mm, O my, what fun!

There'll be the tallest dancin' you ever see, I invite you all to come.

I think the sun is shining brightly night and day,

Don't know what to do or say, to-morrow is my wedding day,

I invite you all to come.

Mamie, come kiss your honey boy, while the stars do shine;

Mamie, Mamie, Mamie, Mamie, Mamie, Mamie,

Come kiss your honey boy, while the stars do shine.
